NEWS ARTICLES

The CPS Bulletin is now circulating news headlines on population-related issues from the current month. Our thanks to Thomas Legrand for organizing these materials.

Millions of Chinese Men are Single

The BBC – February 14, 2017

In China, there is expected to be a surplus of 30 million men on the marriage market by 2030. These “leftover men” are in a race to find a suitable partner.

Cuba Grants Parental Leave to Grandparents

The Washington Post – February 10, 2017

To encourage fertility, Cuba has granted parental leave to the grandparents of newborns, in addition to its already generous parental leave policy. The country is struggling with a sagging birthrate.

Labor Shortages in Asian Countries

The Economist – February 10, 2017

Some Asian countries are facing labor shortages because of restrictions on foreign workers. The imbalance of workers is expected to get worse with population aging.
