

Create
Collaborate
Innovate

Sheridan College is one of Canada's leading postsecondary institutions dedicated to the provision of outstanding academic programs and the support of student and graduate success. We deliver an exceptional educational experience in an environment renowned for innovation and creativity. Program options range from one-year certificates to four-year degrees in the arts, business, community service and technology fields. Sheridan serves 18,000 full-time and 35,000 continuing education students at our campuses in Oakville, Brampton and Mississauga.

Sheridan employees will enjoy:

- Competitive compensation
- Generous vacation entitlement
- Excellent benefits package with Sun Life
- Defined benefit pension plan
- Employee assistance programs
- On-site fitness facilities include: weight rooms, cardio rooms, and squash courts, as well as karate, yoga, pilates, rock climbing and other instructional activities.

In addition, we offer professional development opportunities to promote career development and success in the workplace, including:

- Professional Development funding
- Reduced fees for Continuing Education courses
- Tuition Reimbursement

Please note Sheridan College only accepts applications using Resume Basic. Please refer to our online application guide and FAQ section to learn more about the application process. Sheridan's Online Application Guide & FAQs

Note: Credentials obtained outside of Canada require an evaluation to determine the Canadian educational equivalence. This evaluation must support the educational requirements for the position as a condition of employment.

For further information, visit:

World Education Services

The Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences at Sheridan is seeking a professor who will be responsible for teaching and curriculum leadership in the disciplinary area of Sociology. Sub-specializations sought include, cultural studies or deviance or another distinct area of sociological theory. The successful candidates will develop curriculum and teach a range of introductory and advanced sociology courses across General Education and Breadth (degree-level) electives and/or in the General Arts and Science Program.

The candidate will develop an effective learning environment for students, as well as respect the individual learning styles and diverse cultural and educational backgrounds of students in applied degrees and other postsecondary programs. The successful candidate should be committed to working in a team environment that supports distinctive programming and academic excellence.

Responsibilities

Sheridan faculty provide academic leadership to programs and courses within their areas of expertise and contribute to the creation of a learning-centred environment where students can develop to their full potential. They also contribute to College, Faculty and program excellence by collaborating on a variety of initiatives such as new program development, applied research and alternative delivery strategies.

Professors are responsible for:

- Ensuring that program and course curricula are current, relevant and reflective of best practices within the relevant professional/program disciplines;
- Defining, evaluating and validating learning outcomes for courses and programs;
- Creating an effective environment for learning which accommodates students' diverse cultural and educational backgrounds, experiences and individual learning styles;
- Designing appropriate strategies and tools for facilitating and assessing student learning that are invitational and reflective of best practices in teaching and learning;
- Developing appropriate strategies and tools to assess student performance that are consistent with the learning outcomes of the course and address multiple learning styles;

- Developing multi-media materials and alternative delivery strategies, and incorporating appropriate educational technologies into the learning process.

Professors also ensure that students are aware of course and program learning outcomes, learning strategies and evaluation techniques; provide individual tutoring and academic counselling; and evaluate student progress/achievement within assigned courses.

Qualifications:

- PhD in Sociology preferred; Master's degree in Sociology required;
- Three to five years of experience in teaching, applied research and curriculum development at the post-secondary level;
- Excellent communications and interpersonal skills;
- Demonstrable ability to convey the conceptual and applied aspects of knowledge to a broad range of students;
- Committed to excellence in teaching and learning and to working within a team environment.

Appointment Details:

Employee Group: Academic

Faculty: Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences

Campus: May be assigned activity at any Sheridan campus

Salary Range: $58,946 - $102,186 (based on relevant educational qualifications and experience)

Application Deadline: (Open until filled however interviews will begin after February 28)

Start Date: August 12, 2013

To be considered for this position, an on-line application is required. Please click on the "Apply for this job" button to proceed with your application. Please review Sheridan's Online Application Guide & FAQs; before you begin.

Note: Credentials obtained outside of Canada require an evaluation to determine the Canadian educational equivalence. This evaluation must support the educational requirements for the position as a condition of employment.

For further information, visit:

World Education Services

Sheridan welcomes diversity in the workplace and encourages applications from all qualified individuals, including visible minorities, Aboriginal People, and persons with disabilities.